Home Screen

Viewing Other Users

The Home screen is where you will be viewing other viewers cards/profiles and deciding whether you will like the user or dislike the user depending on whether you are interested in adding them to your party or not. At the bottom of the screen is the main navigation bar for the app where you can come back to this home screen, go to the chat screen to message your matches, or go to your profile screen to make edits to your profile.
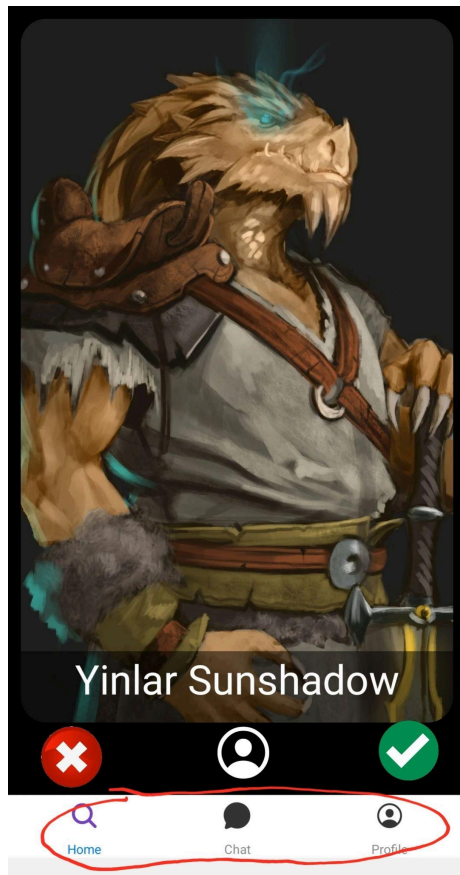

Interaction Bar

Overlaying each card is an interaction bar that can be used to like or dislike the user by pressing on the green checkmark to like or the red X to dislike. There is also a button to view the user's profile information. In addition to using this interaction bar to like/dislike you may also swipe the card right/left to like/dislike the user
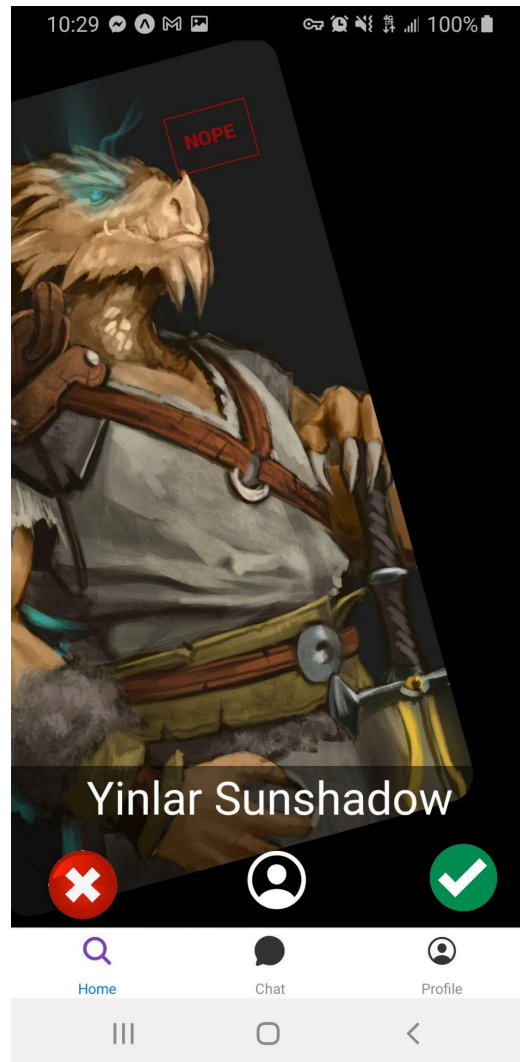

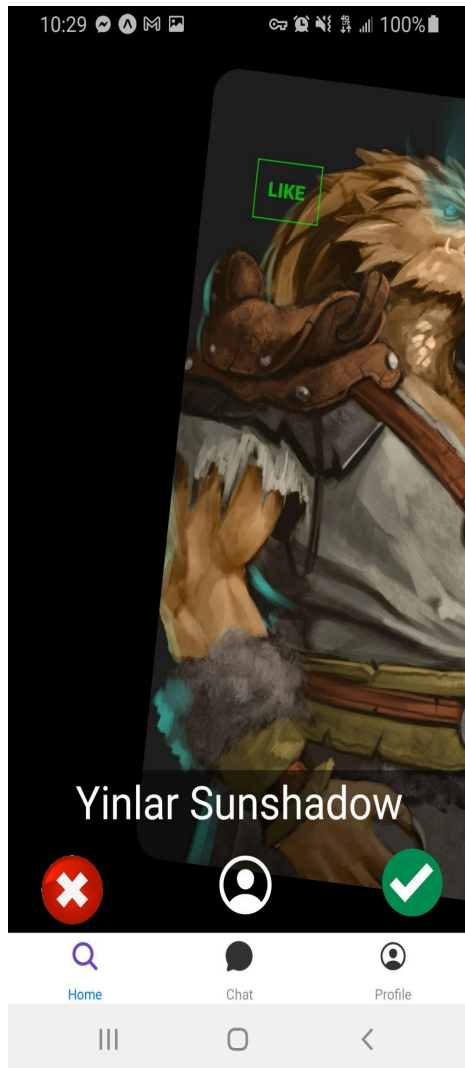

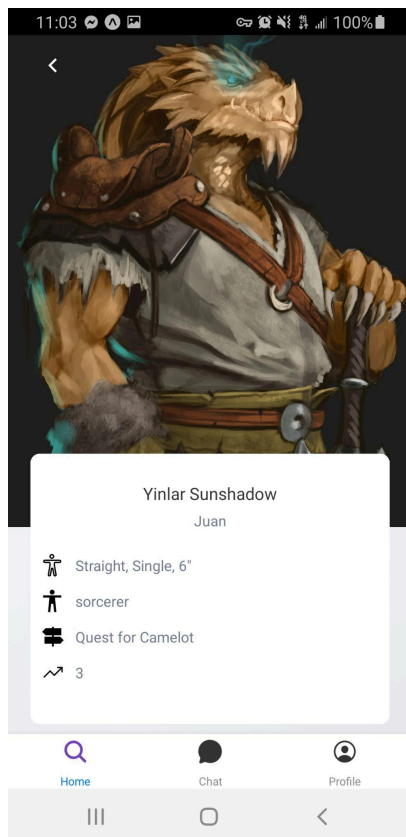

User Profile

Pressing the profile icon on the interaction bar will bring up the user's profile. Here You will see information about the user indicated by the profile Icon. An icon legend is provided below:

is the user's biography section of their profile. Here is where they may give information about themselves, what group they are looking for, character biography, etc

indicates the user's character's class indicates the user's current campaign/campaigns

indicates the user's character's level

Profile Screen

Viewing Your Profile

By pressing the Profile button in the bottom navigator you will be directed to your profile screen where your profile information will be displayed. There will be two buttons available to edit your profile and to log out from the application.
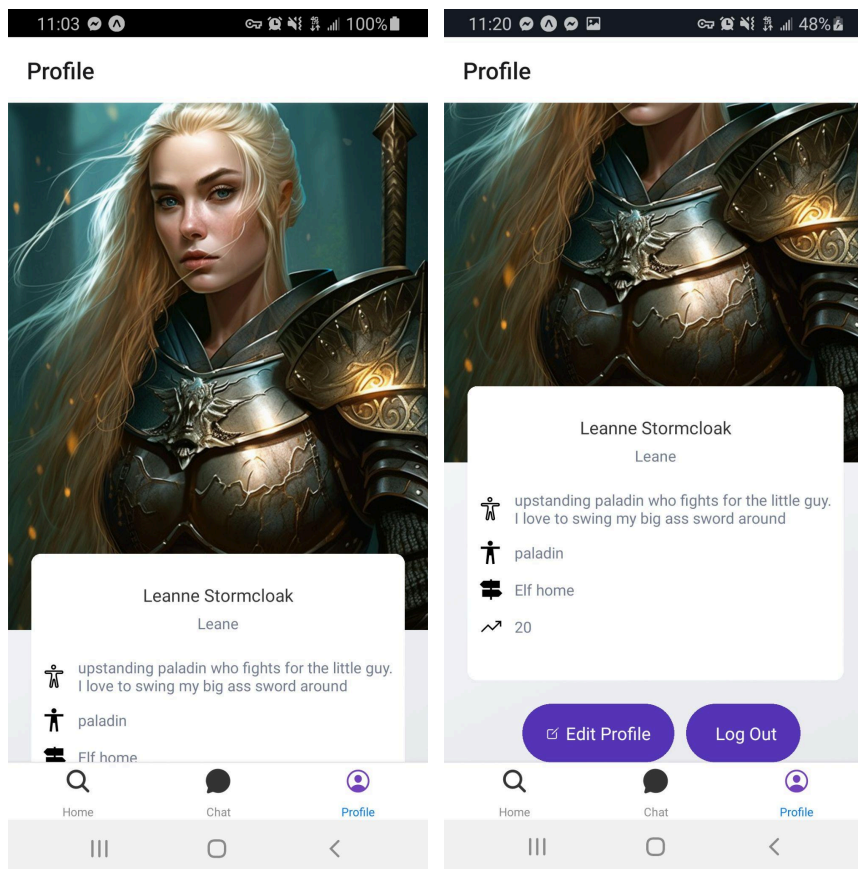

Editing Your Profile

When the edit button is pressed you will be presented with the edit profile form where you can edit your information or upload a new photo to replace your current one. At this time only 1 user photo is supported.

Uploading a Photo

To upload a new photo click on the upload photo button and select the photo you wish to use from your phone's storage.
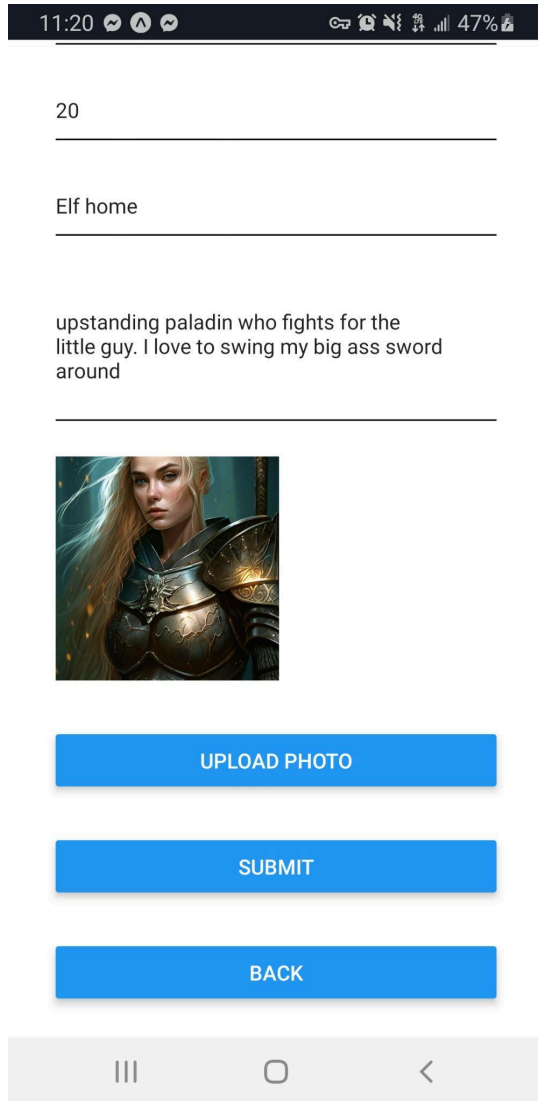

Messaging Screen(s)

Accessing Messages

To view messages and message people you've matched with navigate to the messages screen by pressing Chat on the navigation bar. Here You will be presented with a list of all your matches and a preview of the most recent message in your conversation with each match. To navigate to your conversation with a particular matched user, click on the message and you will be redirected to the conversation screen for that conversation.
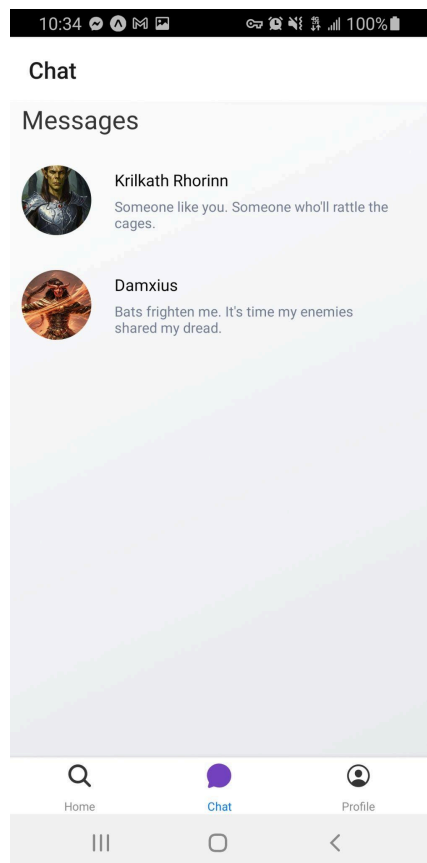

Conversation Screen

Here you will see your messaging history with a particular user. You can scroll through the messages to see when each message was sent by checking the timestamp for the message.
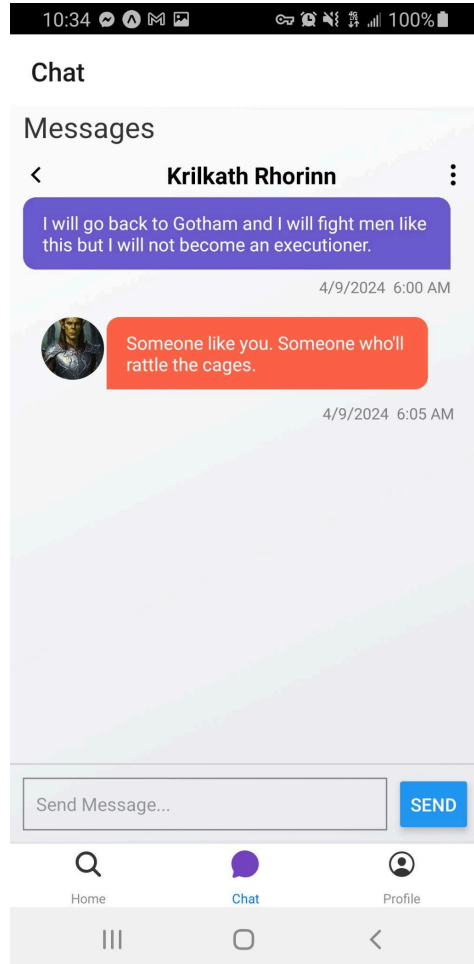

Sending Messages

You can send a new message to the user by typing in the text box then pressing send.To return to your list of matches you must click the '<' (back) button to go back. This needs to be pressed otherwise if you navigate away from the Chat option in the navigator and come back the conversation will still be displayed and you will have to press the back button to get back to the list of matches.

Managing Matches

To remove a user and conversations with them from your list of matches press the 3 vertical dots to bring up the button to unmatch with them. Pressing the button will remove them from your match list and delta your past messages to and from them. If you decide not to remove them from your matches simply click the back button on your device to return to the conversation screen.
